Buffalo River Enterprises Acquires Majority Stake in Mining Industry Leader, Mainstay Strategic investment enhances Buffalo River Dene Nation's business portfolio and supports sustainable growth and economic diversification in Saskatchewan's economy

SASKATOON, SK – Buffalo River Enterprises Corporation (BREC), the General Partner of Buffalo River Development LP, wholly-owned by Buffalo River Dene Nation (BRDN), is excited to announce the strategic acquisition of a 51% ownership stake in Mainstay Engineers and Owner Reps, one of Canada's leading providers of engineering and owner representative services managing capital construction projects for industrial and mining companies across Canada.

Mainstay has a stellar track record overseeing billions of dollars' worth of projects with renowned mining operators such as Cameco, Orano Canada, NexGen, BHP, and Teck Resources. The acquisition of the majority stake by BREC signals the company's devotion to developing a company that creates opportunities for economic reconciliation.

"This partnership has more than just strategic and commercial implications, it reflects our shared passion for creating opportunities for economic reconciliation and building an Indigenous-led venture," said Jeff Spence, President of Mainstay. "This shared commitment will fuel our drive towards shaping a company that benefits Indigenous peoples and communities for generations to come."

BREC brings a forward-thinking, community-oriented approach to business, with a strong focus on promoting regional growth and diversification. Acquisition of Mainstay aligns with BREC's overarching objectives to forge robust, multi-sector partnerships that enable a more profound regional impact.

"Progressive entrepreneurship is the heart of Buffalo River Enterprises," comments Brad Darbyshire, President & CEO of BREC and a member of BRDN with extensive experience in the mining and Industrial contracting sector. "Joining forces with Mainstay's expertise and dedication to community prosperity, this investment is the beginning of a promising journey that raises the community capacity in the technical and project management space. Mainstay will not only serve the Saskatchewan economy but will apply its capacity to community driven development and infrastructure goals."

This partnership lays a favourable platform for both BREC and Mainstay to leverage their respective strengths to drive sustainable development, create meaningful opportunities for local communities, and enhance Saskatchewan's booming mining and industrial sector.
